In Term 2, we will be continuing to study texts by Charles Dickens and other Victorian authors in our English lesson. We are now over halfway through Berlie Doherty's 'Street Child', I wonder what will happen to Jim next?

We will be having a Geography focus more this term and investigate how land use in our local area has changed over time. We will also be exploring ideas around sustainable farming and fishing and different inventions that are used today to try to help the environment.

We will also continue to study real life personalities who lived in the 1800s including Mary Seacole & Florence Nightingale and the impact they have on how we live today.

In Mathematics, we will be exploring place value and rounding numbers- useful skills when answering our Victorian word problems. Knowing times tables will help with these activities too!

Finally, in the next couple of weeks, we will be looking closely at paintings by Van Gogh and Turner and designing grand Victorian homes in our Design and Technology lessons. These will be recorded by the children during our Computing sessions too!

Lots to learn this term!
